Canadian Legion Convention Here Largest Recorded

Shrine Hall Crowded as Provincial, Civic, Military and Naval Representatives Welcome Delegates
—Pension Question Expected to Be Much Under Discussion During Session

WITH well over 500 members of the Legion and of the Women's Auxiliary crowding the Shrine Hall to capacity, the eighth annual convention of the British Columbia Command of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League got under way promptly at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Described by officials and delegates as the largest convention ever held since its inception, the conclave promises to bring forth in discussion many of the major problems of ex-service men that exist in Canada during its three-day session.

Delegates arrived after the formal opening of the convention with singing of "O Canada" and a prayer by Rev. E. D. McLaren, D.D., representative of the Provincial Government, the city, army and navy, extended a hearty welcome to the assembled delegates.

Hon. Josiah MacLachliffe, Minister of Education and Lands, spoke for Premier S. F. Tolmie, on behalf of the Government of British Columbia. In extending the welcome, he said he spoke not only as a representative of the government, but as a former commander and stated that he hoped the results of the conference's deliberations would show the people that the returned men were as determined in their efforts to secure peace and security, as they were in fighting for their country in time of war. "I feel certain," he said, "that the men of the Legion who have seen war in its most damnable form will show the world by their actions that they are determined to play their part in bringing about real and lasting peace."

MAYOR SPEAKS

Speaking on behalf of the city of Victoria, Mayor David Leeming said: "Our welcome is warm and sincere, because we fully realize the strength and purity of the Canadian Legion, not only in the political and economic life of the

HAUL OF OPIUM TAKEN ON SHIP

Customs Officers Seize $10,500 Worth of Narcotic Drug

VANCOUVER, Aug. 3 (CP)—Chinese smugglers aboard R.M.S. Empress of Canada were caught in the net of Canadian Customs today when $10,500 worth of opium was seized at 10 o'clock by Customs officers. Superintendent of Customs A. R. McLachlan.

In the seizure were 110 tins of refined opium and a quantity of crude opium, the proceeds of which were to be used for the purchase of another quantity of the narcotic. Customs officers are subjecting the ship to a close scrutiny and a minute search is being carried out.

ARRESTS ARE EXPECTED

A number of Chinese, members of the crew, are under a severe grilling, and it is anticipated there will be five or six arrests on smuggling charges arising from the seizure, according to Mr. McLachlan.

The Empress of Canada docked at 7 p.m. Wednesday, from the Orient. Diligent search by Customs officers revealed the smugglers' booty hidden in the bowels of the ship.

On the second day of the vessel's seizure of opium was made on the Empress of Canada at Honolulu by United States' Customs Inspector, and the owners of the vessel fined $40,000, despite the fact that the search was instituted by the ship's officers. It is believed a suspicious-looking sampan followed the vessel just outside Honolulu harbor.

NOTIFIED AUTHORITIES

They notified the United States Customs, and search revealed 1,520 ounces hidden in the ship's laundry. Lo Fu Shu, a Chinese steward on the vessel, confessed to ownership of the drug, and claimed it was to have been smuggled into Vancouver. He was held at Honolulu on a charge of attempted smuggling.

SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE IN VIEW

President Roosevelt Takes Hand and Negotiations for Agreement Proceed Satisfactorily

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—An agreement to settle the Pennsylvania bituminous coal strike negotiated with the aid of President Roosevelt, tonight was on the point of completion.

A turn in the tide came after early mediation efforts proved futile in a conference between General Hugh S. Johnson, recovery chief; Governor-elect John L. Lewis, and representatives of the H. C. Frick Coke Company.

From Hyde Park, President Roosevelt took a hand, and gave his approval to the course of the manoeuvres.

"There will be no agreement that does not have the approval of President Roosevelt," Johnson told newspapermen.

The basis of the agreement remained undisclosed.

SHADOW OF STRIKE WIDE

All Cuba Threatened by Menace Spreading From Small Beginning

HAVANA, Aug. 3 (AP)—The menace of an island-wide general strike hung over Cuba this evening. A tiny thunderhead that appeared ten days ago—the walkout of employees of two of three small omnibus lines and ground transportation—today all the nation's transportation arteries, except railroads, were blocked as far east as Florida, in Camaguey Province.

Striking busmen, taxi drivers and sailors in Havana yesterday and today were in the streets of their homes in Pinar del Rio to the west, Mantanzas, Santa Clara, Ciego de Avila, and many smaller cities to the east.

UNDER PRESSURE

It appeared probable the United Railways' trainmen, under strong pressure from strikers, would go out tomorrow or the day after. Camaguey dispatches said employees of the Consolidated Railways, whose headquarters there, would follow suit.

That would mean stoppage of all rail traffic in Cuba.

To support the striking transportation men almost all Havana's taxi drivers and garage today stopped selling gasoline.

Balotting this morning, the Stevedores and Dockworkers' Union voted to strike this midnight. With public conveyances lacking, horse-drawn vehicles are moving freight from the docks.

REPORTERS' HOLIDAY

Havana newspapermen will be idle twenty-four hours some day before next Tuesday to protest the Press schedule to be considered by the House of Representatives that day.

The motive for the swift-spreading strike was difficult to discern, although Cuban labor's discontent caused by the fall of the wage level was apparently the underlying reason.

SCOTLAND YARD HUNT IS ENDED

Detectives Stark and Cremer Arrest Man Here on £1600 Fraud Charge

Seven years ago New Scotland Yard was baffled by a series of fraud and embezzlement cases in the metropolitan area. Last night, Claude Steele, son of Mr. Steele, but who was in London during 1926, was arrested by Detectives William Stark and Charles Cremer before the Ss. Emma Alexander when she docked from California port.

Thus another case may be brought to a close by New Scotland Yard, once again emphasising the fact that a police officer's memory never fails.

Bad Man of Eskimo Tribe Put to Death

President Roosevelt Takes Hand and Negotiations for Agreement Proceed Satisfactorily

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—A story of the slaying of an Eskimo village "bad man" by other members of the tribe, is told in a wireless report received by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police headquarters here, today, from Inspector T. Sandy-Wunsee, the board the Northern Supply steamer, Asa Nasope.

Oo-Shoak-Juke, an Eskimo who, thirteen years ago, killed a fellow aborigine at Cape Dorset, in Baffin Bay, met retribution six months ago, when his own life was taken by a trio of Eskimos whose Oo-Shoak-Juke had been threatening them.

The native was regarded as insane. He had shot at his wife some time before his own death, and for no apparent reason, he had informed the three men who eventually killed him, that he intended to shoot them.

NOT TO THEIR TASTE

As Chinese sausages were offered to the boys they offered to sell them, and received the huge sum of sixty cents for the six tins. Very elated and realising that they could sell the other tins, they would be able to buy the "movies," but being a little curious and perhaps a little hungry, they got a rock and smashed open one of the tins, but to their disappointment found that it did not contain sausages but some black sticky substance.

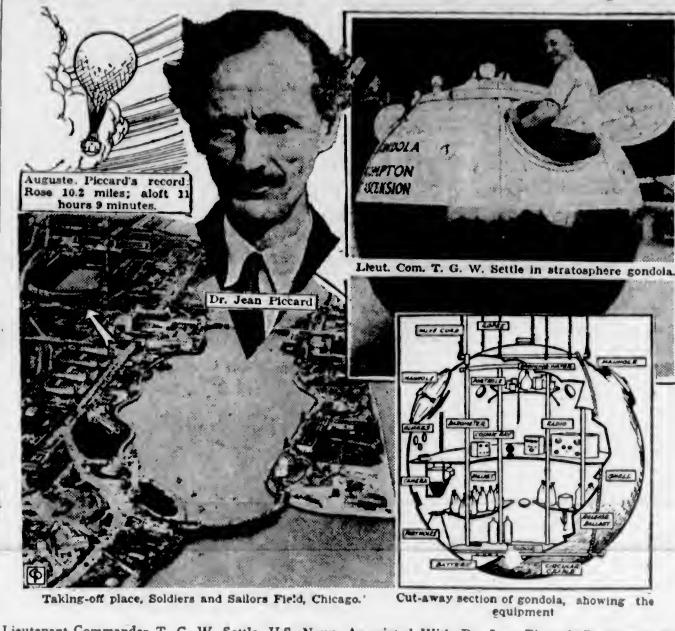

Swinging their sack over their shoulders they arrived in the bus station to sell their wares. They stopped at a Chinese store and offered the owner the remaining tins of sausages, thinking no doubt, that they were making a good deal.

A RISING MARKET

This Chinese was a little more reasonable to deal with, and he bought the remaining tins for one dollar and seventy-five cents. When

Canadian Conversion Loan May Be Launched in Near Future

HON. E. N. RHODES RETURNS FROM LONDON JUBILANT OVER OUTCOME OF MEETINGS

BELIEVES CAUSES OF HALT NOT PERMANENT

QUEBEC, Aug. 3 (CP)—Canada's forthcoming conversion loan will be launched as soon as conditions warrant, but there will be no haste unless the money market indicates the necessity, it was learned, today, from Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Canadian Minister of Finance, and his deputy, Dr. W. C. Clark, who arrived here from London aboard the liner Empress of Britain.

"The success of the London loan has broken the back of our borrowing problems," the officials stated. The loan will be largely in the way of conversions and will probably be only slightly over the present refunding necessities of some $169,000,000.

Further loans on the London market as well as internal loans, their size and date of issue, will depend entirely on the state of the market, the officials said.

Police Hunting for Chinese "Sausages" Found and Vanished

Small Boys of Alberni Make Surprising Find and Become Suddenly Wealthy—Suspicious Parents Start Investigation and Police Continue

PORT ALBERNI, Aug. 3—Opium worth $200 a tin for sale at ten cents a tin. This was the bargain offered in this city, yesterday, by four boys, ages between ten and eleven, and, although the great bargain was not published in the newspaper, the boys found ready customers for their merchandise.

The boys had been down to the waterfront watching a steamer come in and, after unloading, they were old enough to be left ashore, so that they could have had enough money to go to the "movies."

On their way home they wandered along a pathway near the railway track and found a sack containing twelve tins, but, as the tins were covered with Chinese writing, they were unable to read what they contained. When they met a Chinaman and asked him what the tins were, the Oriental stood in open-mouthed amazement at the tins and said the one word—sausages.

STATE TROOPS PATROL HARLAN

Militiamen Are Called Out in Kentucky After Election Riots

HARLAN, Ky., Aug. 3 (AP)—Armed with rifles, tear gas bombs and sub-machine guns, state troops patrolled the streets of Harlan tonight as a result of a pre-election fight earlier in the day in which one man was slain and several others wounded, one probably fatally.

The militiamen had the situation "well in hand" shortly after being called to duty by Mayor L. O. Smith, the mayor said.

SERIOUS CLASH FEARED

Smith said he took the action to prevent what was threatened to be a serious clash between opposing political factions in Saturday's primary elections.

The outbreak precipitating the calling of troops occurred this morning at Kenvir, twelve miles from here. Sheriff John H. Blair said Robert Roark, thirty-five, was shot to death and several others wounded during a fight in a house where a ballot box was kept.

SIX PER CENT ADVANCE

The letter estimates an advance of 6 per cent from February to June at the Canadian price level.

The advance being in greatest evidence in connection with those commodities which suffered most severely during the decline. This is most evident in agricultural products, particularly wheat, which advanced from 45c a bushel in February to as high as 90c a bushel in June.

"This quick comeback in agricultural prices is restoring purchasing power parity between the farm and city and will make for a greater volume of trade within the country," the letter adds.

GENEVA, Aug. 3 (AP)—Efforts to halt the Gran Chaco conflict between Paraguay and Bolivia were turned over to the governments of neighboring states—Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Peru—by the League of Nations Council today.

This action was taken in agreement with suggestions advanced by the two belligerent states after the League had decided, in agreement with those states, to send an international commission to seek settlement of the dispute on the scene of hostilities.

DELUGE CARRIES DEATH AND DESTRUCTION TO DENVER CITY

Dam Crumples After Cloudburst—Three Dead and Five Missing as Fertile Valley Lands Become Mud-Filled Slough, With Debris Swept Through Town and Village

Crop and Stock Losses Estimated as Enormous

DENVER, Aug. 3 (AP)—Crumpling under the pressure of a mountain cloudburst added to the three square miles of water behind its walls, Castlewood Dam sent a billion-gallon deluge roaring through Denver, today, leaving two dead and damage estimated at $1,000,000 in its thirty-mile path of destruction.

Five persons were missing tonight and a separate storm claimed the life of a woman to bring the death toll to three.

HONORARY TREASURER OF B.C. COMMAND

Two miners, who had been working below ground, were missing. The wood-wrecked camp equipment was found when the water subsided. An unidentified family of three persons could not be located, and the site where they camped last night was inundated.

Franktown, a village on a hillside four miles below the dam, was the first community to realize it was to be struck. Then the flood swept six miles to Parker, at times on a mile-wide front, and picked up tons of debris as it swirled into suburban Denver and sent Cherry Creek on a rampage through the heart of the city. MUD-COVERED VALLEY

With cracking of the rock-filled irrigation reservoir dam, forty-three hours old, the loosed flood waters quickly converted the fertile valley farm lands into a mud-spattered slough.

Warned of the flood, Denver police and firemen, with sirens going full blast, raced through the Country Club residential district, warning everyone in the lowland area to flee from their homes. Emergency ambulance corps moved inwards to safety.

ONE OF MANY STORMS

A separate cloudburst, one of four rainstorms and five hailstorms that hit Southeastern Colorado in the last twenty-four hours, took the life of Mrs. Claude Hill, fifty, when her ranch home in the Matheson region was washed several hundred yards off its foundation. Her husband and seven children escaped.

The Castlewood dam died were. Mrs. Bertha Catlin, twenty-one, a ranch worker, who was thrown from her horse into a flooded creek, and Tom Casey, eighty, of Denver, who drowned in the rear of a Denver home.

Crop losses will be enormous, and hundreds of head of livestock were drowned. Highways and bridges were damaged heavily.

NOT ENOUGH TO BRING RELEASE

One Thousand Dollars Will Not Get Lim Gim Out of Jail

VANCOUVER, Aug. 3 (CP)—Payment of $1,000 last month did not mean the immediate release from the Victoria City Jail of Lim Gim, Vancouver Chinese, convicted in one of the outstanding drug cases in the criminal annals of this province.

According to court records, Lim Gim owes the Government $3,076.42 in fines and costs, the penalty for non-payment of the fine being a year in addition to the seven year term imposed by the Court of Appeal.

Figuring that his husband's time in jail was up about July 20, Mrs. Lim Gim, Shieh on July 15 paid to the registrar here $1,000 as the amount of his fine.

"Hope runs high," he said, "that the results of these deliberations will soon be manifested in increased inter-Dominion trade."

ENCOURAGING INDICATION

Mr. Beatty expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the arrangements made for the Canadian loan flotation in London. "It is an encouraging indication," he said, "that the British people are thinking in terms of inter-Dominion economic relationships as they have not done for a long time. Therein lies a very real hope of Canadian trade developments."

A four-cent reward, paid to the extent of $1,600, or approximately $3,000, was laid against the man as soon as he was arrested.

In a cable from New Scotland Yard, however, it was stated that many cases of fraud and embezzlement on a large scale will be laid against the accused on his arrival in England.

OTHER ALLEGATIONS

It was alleged, New Scotland Yard officials stated in their communication, that Steele had obtained many large sums of money by representing himself as a partner in a firm of London insurance brokers, by whom, in fact, he was employed solely on a commission basis. There are also other allegations of embezzlement and fraud against him, the communication said.

Police here were provided with a complete description of the accused. Detective Stark and Crampton readily identified him from this description. After being taken to the city jail, a cable was sent to London notifying officials of the arrest and asking that an escort be sent for him. An enjoyable trip to Victoria from the Old Country awaits some lucky police officer.

the moment which made impossible for the moment the attainment of the main immediate objectives of the conference, namely, currency stabilization, international co-operation in price-raising policies, and the removal of abnormal restrictions upon trade. It must not be overlooked that a sharp divergence in viewpoint between the two countries and the United States in the field of monetary policy arose out of conditions that will not be permanent.

Moreover, the bureau—the active arm of the conference—remains in being and is empowered to take whatever steps may be necessary to promote the success of the conference, whether by calling together the committees already set up, or to determine the date of the final assembling of the conference. Canada is one of the twelve countries represented on the bureau and in its activities Canada's Prime Minister prominently participated with singular credit to himself and to the Dominion.

The agreement of the silver-producing countries to withdraw from the market a total of 35,000,000 ounces of silver each year for a period of four years, is expected to raise the price to the producer and to stabilize the market for this metal.

"Undoubtedly, China would buy more wheat from Canada if her money had a greater and more stabilized value here," Mr. Rhodes said; and the opinion was expressed such a result would tend to stimulate trade generally.

AID IS GIVEN TO VETERANS IN DISTRESS

Canteen Fund Shows Spendid Work Done by Canadian Legion

MANY REPORTS ARE TABLED AT SESSION

An excellent financial position, the rendering of aid to many destitute veterans, and the formation of a stern policy with respect to the drive to retain adequate pensions for ex-servicemen, were discussed in the annual reports tabled and addressed at the session of the eighth annual convention of the British Columbia Command of the Canadian Legion, here, yesterday.

Lieut.-Colonel H. W. Cooper, honorary treasurer, submitted a report showing an excess of money over expenses of $1,000. This was in spite of a drop in revenue for the year to $8,771.26, a difference of almost $600 from the previous year. Reserve funds were in good shape, said Colonel Cooper, and a strict policy of economy was being adhered to.

The report of the canteen fund trustees showed that aid had been extended to 1,064 veterans during the year, at a total cost of $23,374.43. Total expenditures since the fund was first formed, in 1926, amounted to $228,819.19.

The president's report dealt, to a great extent, with the pension question, while that of Colonel W. W. Poster, Dominion representative of the British Columbia Command, emphasized that only men with vigilance and the exercise of all those qualities which, in times past, have ensured success, will further attacks upon the rights of ex-servicemen and their dependents, be defeated.

Turning from routine matters, the report of the executive secretary, Robert Macneil, concluded with this important statement on future policy:

"Our organization has now been in existence for a number of years, and much has been accomplished. The time has arrived, if not already overdue, when we should delineate a policy for the future, and good upstanding men with experience in war service, find themselves just existing from day to day on the strength of the contributions of relief agencies. Let me hope that the Canadian Legion will, at this convention, lead the way, not only in declaring a policy for the future, but in making certain that an aggressive front will be presented by our organization in the carrying out of that policy."

Mostly interested in the problem of insisting upon fair and just treatment for men who served Canada in time of war, the Legion is carrying out her contractual obligations to her bondholders; Canada must fulfill in full her more sacred obligation to our veterans.

"Notwithstanding the influence and power that we can exercise in the governing of this country, what is happening today, men with pensions are being denied or cut down. The 'benefit of the doubt' is now totally ignored in awarding entitlement for pension, and good upstanding men with experience in war service, find themselves just existing from day to day on the strength of the contributions of relief agencies. Let me hope that the Canadian Legion will, at this convention, lead the way, not only in declaring a policy for the future, but in making certain that an aggressive front will be presented by our organization in the carrying out of that policy."

When Dr. Stalton, George Dodds and York Bowen were in the city last April, they were so much impressed with the excellence of the work in the posters done by the Victoria school children that they requested that a number of these cards might go to the Old Country to show what splendid work the school children were doing in Victoria. In this letter to Mr. Dodds, dated in his letter to the Old Country festival, he writes:

In this letter to Mr. Dodds, dated in his letter to the Old Country festival, he writes:

"The threats to kidnap the wife of Edward J. O'Connell, prominent Democratic leader, or one of the O'Connell brothers, uncles of the ransomed John J. O'Connell, Jr., were reported today to have been received by the family.

The threats were said to have been responsible for the heavy guard maintained at the mountain camp of Dan O'Connell, where several members of the family are staying.

Police and private guards, armed with rifles, patrol the O'Connell camp, which is situated in the city, and the heavy guard maintained at the mountain camp last Sunday after twenty-four days' captivity.

ANGERED BY SITUATION

It was understood the snatch mob, angered by the revelation it had been given marked money and the knowledge that the O'Connells were silent, had called on the O'Connells with the authorities, sought with threatening letters.

Reports also were being circulated that an arrest would be made today. Manney Strelw, intermediary, has been held in custody for questioning, and his pal, John Oley, was ordered picked up.

Police pipe band, all killed and plied, has captured the hearts of the gathering here already, and are won over their minds that before leaving, the city, they will take the hearts of the citizens with them.

Company incorporations for the week were light, the following list being granted licences to operate in British Columbia:

CANADA'S LOAN IN LONDON

It is a high tribute to the financial standing of the Dominion, and incidentally to the strength of the Government of Mr. R. B. Bennett, that the latest loan for $72,000,000 should have been oversubscribed almost four times. It is not only the fact of the over-subscription that is impressive but also that the loan was taken up within a few minutes after the books were opened. One reason is British satisfaction with the working of the Imperial Trade Treaty with this country. Moreover, it is realized in British financial circles that the Dominion is recovering steadily and surely from the economic depression, that the plans she is pursuing towards this end continue to be based on stable economic principles, that there is no inflation in the country and that the outlook for the sale of the coming wheat crop and of the surplus that has accumulated in the elevators is brighter than it has been for several years.

Incidentally the spontaneous response to the latest loan constitutes a tribute to the financial system of the Dominion. Banking methods here are regarded with every confidence by investors in Britain. They see security in the financial structure of the country, and they are persuaded that there will be no wayward adventures into the realm of economic theory. In other words, British investors trust the sound judgment of the Canadian people as a whole. That, in effect, is the meaning of the ready response to Canada's need of $72,000,000. Mr. Bennett has every reason for gratification and the inhabitants of this country now must realize that closer trade relationships with Britain mean added prestige for the Dominion in the London money market.

A TOTALITARIAN STATE

Herr Adolf Hitler has devised for Germany what The London Times calls the "Totalitarian State." He has engineered the collapse of all political parties save the Nazis. Even the Centre Party which was cemented by religious and political sentiment has gone the way of the rest and with it Dr. Bruning is eliminated from public life. The worst feature of a "Totalitarian State," according to The Times, is that it deprives the country of many of its ablest men of action and its independent thinkers. They are no longer allowed to perform "even the useful function of constructive opposition." The situation in Germany is hardly fully understood. Something of the character of the regime introduced by Herr Hitler is evidenced in what The London Times says:

"The Nazis have brought Germany to this pitiful condition (a Totalitarian State) by their ruthless exploitation first of the rubber club and then of the threat of dismissal from public office or private job. In the earlier stages of the revolution any man who put up the slightest show of open resistance—of physical resistance there was practically none—was liable to be haled from his bed in the middle of the night and beaten to the point of death; in its more recent stages physical cruelty has been mostly superseded by the threat of loss of livelihood, almost equally terrible in a country where economic distress is even more acute than elsewhere. The Nazis were themselves largely recruited from the unemployed. Having gained power they wanted jobs, and they have been taking them. The unfortunate and defenseless Jews, of course, have suffered most; but charges of lukewarmness to the cause' have been sufficient to rob German business men of their posts; and even inability to prove that his wife's grandparents were all of pure Aryan stock has ruined many a family bread-earer. There is in fact a scramble for jobs. How ruthless reformers have become is indicated by Herr Hitler's refusal to his extremists, which is contained in the notable instructions reported by our Berlin correspondent. He says that men who have shown ability in economic and business life must not be removed simply because they are not Nazis. They must not be replaced by Nazis who know nothing about their business. 'History will not judge us, the Nazi leaders tell their followers, 'by the number of business men we have put in jail.'"

EVERYGIRL'S EDUCATION

It is not often that a mere male has the temerity to say what is the best education for a girl, even when he is head of a boy's school his experience may not necessarily lead him to the best conclusions affecting the feminine sex. Dr. Cyril Norwood, of Harrow, has, however, no hesitation in giving his views on what he terms the best education for "Everygirl." In what he says he assumes that a school course is a preparation for life and not for an examination, and that therefore it should aim at the production of health, strength and activity of the highest degree possible. In these respects he believes that girls' schools are now ahead of those for boys, but the conception he puts forward is not regarded in every school course as being as fundamental as it should be. Then he goes on to say in his estimate of what girls' should be:

"The curriculum should be built on English subjects as its main foundation; the mother tongue, how to speak it, write it, use it; geography, dealt with in the modern way, which gives reasons as well as facts, and history, which moves on from the stories of the past to concentrate on the world of the present, how and why it has grown to be what it is. On this foundation should be built lessons in simple citizenship. Third, science, so long as it is alive. Science entered the curriculum about 1870, and by 1900 the pedants had made it the deaddest subject of the lot. Let Everygirl try to learn something of biology and hygiene, with the merest elements of physics and chemistry; it is not her business to be a potential B.Sc. Finally let her do her best at the aesthetic and practical subjects. It will be her concern to give beauty to the home; teach her to a right judgment of things musical and artistic. It will be her concern to give order to the home; let her have her chance of learning something of the many mysteries of housecraft. If she likes French, let her learn it; if she has no linguistic gift, let her leave it out. If she is good at algebra and geometry (and she probably isn't), let her try; but so long as she can do a little arithmetic accurately, what more does she want?"

POUND AND DOLLAR

Lord Bradbury, in an article in The London Times points to the desirability of anchoring the pound to something, and asks what it is to be. The suggestions that have been made are that it should be anchored to the present price level, to the American dollar, to gold. Whatever is Lord Bradbury's remedy it does not lie in anchoring the pound to the American dollar and in this respect his views are likely to have an important bearing. In parable he tells of the trend of American financial policy at the present time:

"The policy of hitching ourselves to the American dollar might have attractions if we knew where it was going to lead us. But if I go into a bar with a friend and begin drinking with him glass for glass, without at any rate a rough preliminary estimate of our relative powers of resistance to alcohol, I may easily find myself carried off to bed before he has even got into his stride. Even if I admit that we need a little more alcohol in the form of domestic price-raising—we shall get a good deal as the effect of causes already in operation, whether we need it or not—I shall surely for once in my life have the support of all advocates of currency management if I say that the degree ought to be determined on the best estimate we can make of our own needs, not by the automatic effect of America's (possibly incorrect) estimate of hers."

My conclusion is that any attempt to link the exchange value of the pound and dollar in the near future will probably break down and that, whether it breaks down or succeeds, it will expose us to dangers which we shall be wise to avoid."

The increase in crime among youths is not peculiar to Canada and the United States. There is the same experience in Britain. Of 60,000 offenders in the last year recorded no less than 42 per cent were under twenty-one years of age. For shoplifting and housebreaking the largest relative increase was in the age group from sixteen to twenty-one. Obviously some reform is needed in the processes of education.

A record of building societies in Great Britain shows that the amount of mortgage debt in arrears in repayments in 1932 was £505,440. The total of mortgage balances was £383,377,535. This is a very small percentage of arrears considering the hard times that have been experienced. The fact that it should be so small shows the dependability of the personal covenant of the average borrower.

REMEMBRANCE

(Dedicated to the Provincial Convention of the Canadian Legion, at Victoria, B.C., August 4, 1933.)

We pass along the corridors of Time.
And pray the God, while sinks the flowing sand,
That we may not forget the lowly home,
The simple life, the all of our land.

Across the seas oh woe to every clime.

The silent message of that vanished band.

That may lift the clouds that shroud the sky.
And bless the hallowed spots where'er they lie.

Before the Ceraphon, we bow the head.

The multitude all silent as the grave.

In fantasy we hear the measured tread.

The clash of arms, and thunder on the wave;

We see the forms of our departed dead.

Who claim no dim reward for all they gave.

They swept across the land and star and seas,

And held our honored flag upon the breeze.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

These notes take pleasure oft when haughty mortals
In their own pride erect a mighty fabric.
By skillful means to lay their towering structures.
Low in the dust and teach them are nothing.

—Thomson.

A professor of the dismal science of archaeology has been subjecting the abstract thing we call civilization to an examination, and has been telling us that it has not very long to live—that it is going the way of all former civilizations.

George Bernard Shaw told us the same thing a few months ago, but nobody seriously regards the sayings of Mr. Shaw, whereas when an archaeologist speaks he speaks with what he calls scientific authority.

He is like our friends the doctors when we call them to subject us to the ordeal of an antemortem examination. They look over, look wise, and tell us how long we have to live. Then when the worst comes to the worst, they will hold what they call an autopsy, in which course we shall not be implicitly interested.

The eminent archaeologist who says civilization has not long to live has been digging down into the earth, examining the remains, putting two and two together and drawing scientific conclusions. He says all the evidence he has been able to deduce indicates that our existing civilization is on the verge of dissolution; that what happened to at least six former civilizations is about to overtake our doomed civilization. But all former civilizations were what might be called merely local in their dimensions. They did not extend their bounds beyond two or three continents, whereas our civilization is almost world-wide. If the ancient and still rather virile Chinese civilization were included in it, it would be as universal as anything upon the earth is capable of being.

So there still may be a chance that something may happen to avert the dire catastrophe. A leader may arise to direct our feet in the path of wisdom and safety. We have had ample warning from the prophetic Jeremiahs who stand upon the walls encompassing our system. Politicians, economists, sociologists and humanitarians have lifted up their voices and told us we must mend our ways and watch our step. There is Mr. Ramsay MacDonald in Great Britain, a man of high ideals even if they are somewhat visionary. There is President Roosevelt in the United States, who has taken time by the forelock and started something for the purpose of averting something, and there is Mr. Woodsworth in Canada, who has undertaken to lead us into the promised land behind a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night. The revolution of salvation is called in the United States the N.R.A. and in Canada it is called the C.C.F.—for short. The National Industrial Recovery Act and the Canadian Commonwealth Federation make too much a ballyhoo a mouthful even for the most volatile and garrulous political revolutionaries.

Like the people who play the stock market, we are going to take a cheerful view of the situation.

Even if the worst should come to the worst, we do not see what can be done about it. Until the break of the day of doom we are going to extract what enjoyment we can out of life. Those of us who live upon Vancouver Island know that our feet have been planted in very pleasant places, although not literally in a land flowing with milk and honey, where there is no necessity for more physical exertion than sitting under our own vine and fig tree, reaching out a hand and plucking the fruit necessary to sustain life in our bodies.

Speaking of the kindly and sustaining fruits of the earth, we are told by the paper this morning a statement by a dealer in fruit that the cherries grown upon Southern Vancouver Island cannot be beaten for size and flavor by any of the over-much advertised importations. That is quite true, and an easily demonstrable truth. But fruits are attractive when skillfully displayed, as distant fields look green. But fruits other than cherries are grown upon Vancouver Island which excel by far in appearance and flavor the produce of foreign countries, fruits which many of us in our ignorance or blindness believe cannot be grown except in tropical or semi-tropical countries.

A few mornings ago when we arrived in the office there was a package laid upon our desk which emitted a fragrance which for a long time had been associated with peaches, peaches of Delaware, of Niagara, and of the Okanagan. The package actually was of peaches, grown in some cozy corner on this Island, and fully ripened before the first day of August, not against a sun-heated wall or in an artificially warmed glasshouse, but right out in the "open air." The grower of those delicious peaches, Mr. H. L. Salmon, also grows figs, but does not claim that what he has done can be done upon any part of Vancouver Island, but he does maintain that if the place be well-selected the choices of fruits can be successfully produced in marketable quantities upon many parts of this Island.

MANDALAY.—And here, beneath the blue Chin Hills squat the Gums. "The Centre of the Universe," "the Lord High Celestial Elephant."

"Well, sponge me down!"

This town, right here and now, is "The Most Romantic in the Far East."

"Okay, folks, call me a dirty name if I'm wrong, but listen. Mandalay is the same size as Hamilton, Ontario."

"Can you imagine Mandalay without a hotel, restaurant, theatre, drinkable water, park, playground or sewage system of any kind?"

That's Mandalay.

It has no sidewalks and few roads; its famed palace is made of cracked wood and tin. It has open sewers, cholera, fever and filth beyond description. Its death rate is the highest in the world.

Herds of smelly white cattle clutter up the roadway. Juse now, after five rainless months, these cattle bellow with hunger. Instead of motor trucks, the city's commerce goes from place to place in ox carts.

Instead of taking the home folks with little milk bottles packed by ponies which look like crosses between a bloodhound and a ladybug.

Goats bigger than ponies crowd over what would be sidewalks if there were any sidewalks. Many dogs snap and snarl at your horses.

Northbound I climbed out on Mandalay's greasy train platform in the midst of a dust storm at 104 in the shade. Gaunt coochies grabbed my kit and hurried me to the front door, where the ladyboys horses were lined up. The square here was almost blotted out by swirling dust.

Clouds of sweat were loading things down, sweating women were a postoffice about the size of a hat.

People were lined up to buy stamps.

In a corner a boy was pulling the hairs from another boy's chin. A second boy was pulling the hairs from his own chin.

I got into one of these trick carts and was upped and away to the river front, from where I was to steam north. The dust swirled in such suffocating clouds that it was difficult to make out the ship. The river was so thick that you couldn't begin to see through a glass of it held to the sun.

TOURED AMERICA DURING HOLIDAY

Victoria Residents Had Interesting Trip During Five Weeks' Vacation

J. C. Newmarch, manager of the Douglas Street branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has just returned from an automobile trip which he made throughout Canada and the United States, in company with Mrs. Newmarch and their son. They covered some 7,000 miles in the tour.

Going from here, they made the trip along the Pacific Coast to California and then by way of the Lincoln Highway crossed the United States to Detroit. Crossing into Canada, they toured eastern provinces, Ontario and Quebec, taking in Toronto, Montreal and Quebec city.

On the way back they attended the Chicago Fair. The whole tour occupied about five weeks.

"HOLD YOUR MAN" AT DOMINION TOMORROW

Jean Harlow and Clark Gable are reunited as co-stars by popular demand in "Hold Your Man," a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature film to open at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow. The smashing success of "Red Dust," in which they were teamed romantically, brought such a response from public and exhibitors that Anita Loos, famous "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" author, was asked to provide a new vehicle for the screen.

Miss Harlow, who spans into film recognition in "Hell's Angels," won greater acclaim in "Red-Headed Woman" and clinched her hold on stardom in the tropical part of the province. ### Nearly $25,000 of City Re-funding Issue Subscribed Yesterday

The city treasurer's office yesterday was besieged by inquiries for small blocks of the $267,000 refunding issue, with the result that on the second day of the campaign a total of $24,000 had been subscribed in cash sales, and applications accompanied with deposits.

Actual sales yesterday totaled $10,000, while applications amounted to $10,000. On the first day of the campaign, $10,000 had been subscribed.

A survey of sales and applications shows that many of those who participated in the last over-the-counter bond issue are again availing themselves of the second opportunity.

In addition to offering 5.5 per cent interest, instead of the usual 2.5 per cent, the city has made it possible for small investors to invest by allowing payment over a short period. Also the fifteen-year issue has been printed in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000.

Legion Women Here For Eighth Annual Convention in B.C.

Reports of Auxiliaries Read—Soldiers' Families Receive Much Assistance During Year—Past President's Pins Are Presented

An interesting survey of the work which the Women's Auxiliaries to the Canadian Legion, R.E.S.L., are doing in caring for the interests of the dependent ex-service men was given yesterday during the opening session of the convention being held at the Legion headquarters, Courtney Street.

Mrs. D. J. McDonald, of Revelstoke, the provincial president, was in the chair, and welcomed Mrs. Curtis Sampson, provincial president of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, who officially opened the meeting. Mrs. Sampson referred to the interest of her order in the problems which face the ex-service men and their families, $50,000 having been spent by the order in the education of the sons and daughters of men who have served. Twenty-five bursaries of $1,200 each, and nine overseas scholarships valued at $1,600 each, had been granted in British Columbia since 1929.

Mrs. Sampson wished the delegates every success and encouragement in their convention, so that they might return to their own districts better able to carry on their work. At the close of her address Mrs. Sampson was presented with a charming corsage bouquet of pink and mauve sweet peas by Mrs. Ricketts, on behalf of the auxiliaries.

The drill team from Tacoma, headed by a drummer, paid a short visit during the opening minutes of the meeting and was enthusiastically cheered.

IN PORTLAND

Portland, Oregon, had been filled only two weeks ago, as good work was being done there for Canadian soldiers in the field, and the auxiliary receiving helpful attention while visiting their husbands in Portland, the sum of $129.50 having been raised.

A new hall had been built at Richmond, and $124.73 had been collected.

The Tacoma auxiliary had a membership of thirty-four Canadians, and in addition to other enterprises, had purchased a Union Jack for the Legion post.

The Lion's Gate auxiliary has shown great interest in the welfare of young men, the post having been filled with sweaters, and, in conjunction with the men of the Legion, the young people had been greatly assisted in many ways.

Milner, West Langley and Willoughby worked together, and, in spite of a poor local community, had used their useful work.

The Victoria report showed a membership of forty-one, with receipts amounting to $48.98 for the POONA, India, Aug. 4 (CP)—The expedition uncovered the finds in ocean caves on an uninhabited volcanic island in the Aleutian chain. The implements were buried beneath fallen rock and debris.

One of the most enthusiastic greetings accorded any speaker to the Canadian Legion was that given Mrs. D. J. McDonald, president of the Women's Auxiliary in British Columbia. She spoke briefly, simply and quietly, but with tremendous feeling and brought a storm of applause when she declared that: "We women who went through the days of the Great War, and its terrors and horrors, are doing everything in our power to give this knowledge to the rising generation, year and disbursements totaling $406.21. Curtains had been supplied to the Sunshine Inn, and comforts sent each month to ex-service patients in the hospitals. Each man had been given $1 at Christmas time.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT
Mrs. D. McLennan, of Vancouver, secretary to the Legion, gave the financial statement for the year, the receipts being $269.61 and the expenditures $262.11. Considerable credit was due the secretary-treasurer, it was stated in the auditor's report, for the "extraordinary manner in which her duties have been performed, and, in view of the rapid growth of the command, it is my view that in the immediate future some action will require to be taken to lighten her task, or provide adequate facilities for the work to be performed."

It was decided to expect too much in the way of service from our honorary officers."

An interesting ceremony was performed by the president, Mrs. McDonald, who presented the first three past-presidents' pins given in the Provincial Command. Then went to Major Ripley, Mrs. M. D. McDonald, Mrs. H. C. Mabon, who were warmly congratulated upon the honor accorded them and thanked for their good work.

The question of the presentation of a provincial past-president's pin was brought to the attention of the meeting. It was decided to have one made similar to the auxiliary pins which come from a blue enamel bar, bearing words which would indicate that it was a provincial past-president's pin.

Fernie had a membership of fifteen and was doing good work and Branch No. 1 had raised $237.60 by means of a whisky drive, dance and other activities.

Golden Auxiliary, although only four months old, will have its charter presented this autumn at a public gathering, and a far has raised $45.13.

Port Alberni had twenty-two members and had assistance in procuring playground equipment for the school. Post No. 30, in Point Grey, Vancouver, had raised $675 during the year and gave an encouraging report.

Annual Summer School Course Now Concluded

Distribution of Diplomas Today to 175 Students Will Bring Five-Week Classes to End—Closing Exercises Yesterday

The 175 teacher-students of the annual Sommer school for teachers, conducted here under the auspices of the Provincial Department of Education, will disperse for their holidays today, after five weeks' hard work at the Victoria High School. With the exception of the winding up of the classes and the distribution of diplomas at midday today, the term came to an end yesterday afternoon with the holding of a musical and dramatic program. The main feature of the program, Principal John Kyle seized the opportunity to commend the students on their fine application, earnestness and punctuality throughout the course.

Teachers today have to bear in mind an important matter that the teacher of a generation ago did not have to concern him: that in the years to come there is going to be a tremendous lot of leisure time for working people. It is part of the present-day teacher's function to prepare the coming generation, so that they will know how to spend their leisure hours as well as their working hours." Mr. Kyle reminded his audience. To this end, the modern teacher should study recreational as well as the more purely academic subjects, so that they could pass on the information.

PRaises Orchestra

The program yesterday opened with some performances by the Junior Symphony Orchestra, which induced Principal Kyle to command especially the fine work of the instructor and conductor, Harold Taylor. Using his original Junior Symphony, composed of elementary and high school students, as the nucleus, Taylor's orchestra of thirty instruments at the Summer school teacher-students making up the balance of its personnel.

Their performance yesterday was astonishingly good. For the opening number, Beethoven's "Emperor Overture," the orchestra was conducted by Stanley Ballantyne, teacher in the Indian school at Ahousat, who also conducted the final number, "Down South." In between these admirably played numbers was the andante movement from Haydn's "Emperor Quartet," skillfully conducted by Mr. Taylor.

Miss Ethel Coney's choral class extended the programme delightfully.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

U.S. Ocean and Air Mail Subsidies to Stand Drastic Cut

Economy Measures of Postoffice Department Will Mean Total Saving of $9,000,000—Owners of Contracts Perturbed

Holders of ocean mail contracts are greatly perturbed over the increase in rates the United States Postoffice Department has ordered. Instructions from the administration is determined to effect a saving of $7,000,000 in the expenditure of ocean and air mail contracts in the fiscal year starting July 1. The various lines have been asked to confine with the department before the final decision has been made for July, in order to determine how much each can contribute to the proposed economy plan.

While the suggestion for putting the economy into effect has not been put forward in the shape of a definite executive order, says the Post Office Bureau of Commerce, it is being carried out by the department just as though such an order had been issued. It is understood that the questionnaires issued in connection with the Black Inquiry may figure in the proposed scaling down on payments under some of the contracts.

It has been hinted that some disputed contracts which have been under criticism by competing lines since they were originally awarded, may be canceled or, at least, radically revised. In some cases, it has been indicated the curtailment of expenditures may be effected through the cancellation of contracts with the lines and the Postoffice Department, to make reductions either in the amounts of payments or in the number of sailings for which payments are to be made.

NO NEW CONTRACTS

In any event, assurances have been given that the economy will be applied in such a way as to avoid the possibility of any of the purchased lines being thrown into the hands of the Postoffice Department, to make reductions either in the amounts of payments or in the number of sailings for which payments are to be made.

NO NEW CONTRACTS

LONG DISTANCE CASE DIAGNOSED

Doctor and Amateur Wireless Operator Co-operate in Attempt to Save Life of Child

SEATTLE, Aug. 3 (AP)—Short-wave wireless whined across more than 1,000 miles of the Pacific Ocean today, as a physician and an amateur operator sought to save the life of a five-year-old boy by long-distance diagnosis.

Edward Stevens, the operator, was "talking" with the operator at Akataikak, on lonely Kodiak Island, near the Aleutians, and was told about the illness of the boy, son of Henry B. Loof, former Bureau of Fisheries warden. There was no physician in that part of the Far North.

"They did not know the cause of the boy's illness," Stevens said. "I gave them the symptoms. I gave them to Dr. A. H. Seering, of Harborside Hospital. He diagnosed the case as pertonitis and advised that we get a doctor to Anchorage, Alaska, by airplane. I relayed the message to Akataikak.

"The operator there said bad weather conditions prevented him from talking with Anchorage, and asked me to relay a message to them, asking for a plane. I gave the message to the army wireless operator, who sent it to the army station at Anchorage. We got a message later that the plane was being sent.

"I hope the little fellow recovers."

SEMI-FINALS REACHED IN CANADIAN TENNIS MEET

Wightman Cup Tennis Series Will Commence Today at New York

Ranking British And U.S. Players To Be Opponents

Outcome of Important Women's Cup Meet Unpredicted by Experts—Two Singles and One Doubles Match Carded Today—Others Will Be Played on Saturday

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—The ranking women tennis players of the United States and Great Britain meet for the eleventh time tomorrow in their annual competition for the Wightman Cup, with the issue almost unpredictable. If there is an advantage, it lies with Canadian Mrs. Wm. Moody and her team of three, the result of the competition giving Mrs. Moody a chance to compete in three of the seven matches in the series, and win all except one of the points needed for team victory. Playing with Mrs. Moody will be Helen Jacob and Sarah Palfrey and Alice Marbel. Heading the English team of five is Dorothy Edith Round, the solemn-mannered English Sunday school teacher, who took a set from Mrs. Moody at Wimbledon, the first to accomplish that feat in six years, but with only one experienced British internationalist to give her aid, Betty Nutting. The other three players on the English team are followed by Mary Heeley, Peggy Scriven and Frida James, all newcomers to cup play.

THREE MATCHES TODAY

The first three matches of the series will be played tomorrow with Miss Jacobs opening play against Miss Round, followed by the Moody-Scriven match. In the doubles Miss Jacobs and Miss Palfrey will pair against Miss Round and Miss Heeley.

Playing with Mrs. Moody will be Helen Jacob and Sarah Palfrey and Alice Marbel.

Victoria Rider Crashes in Marathon Bike Race Several Times

CORNWALL, Ont., Aug. 3 (CP)—Pierre Gachon, rugged French-Canadian rider from Montreal, led the general standing in Armand Vincent's 4,300-mile cross-country bicycle race tonight by a bare thirty seconds. Ewald H. Peden, of Berlin, was the winner of today's lap. The German, riding in splendid form and showing marvelous condition, is a favorite to win the grueling.

Today's 229-mile lap from Sherbrooke, Quebec, to Cornwall, longest of the race so far, was staged under the conditions of constant rain and slippery roads. The grueling pace set by the leaders had its effect upon the riders. "Torchy" Peden, of Victoria, and Joe Laporte, of Montreal, figured in several spills along the way.

A. CAMPBELL BEATEN IN GOLF MEET

P.N.W. and Canadian Champ Loses at Portland to Stanley Seymour

EASTMORELAND MUNICIPAL COURSE, PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 3 (AP)—California seemed to enjoy its Northwest's famous rain today as far as "Torchy" Peden, over controlling interest in the annual public links golf championship, leaving room in the quarter-finals for only Robert Lee Miller, of Jacksonville, Fla., the defending champion, and two Washington boys, Bud Ward, of Olympia, and Leslie Leal, of Bellingham.

Henry Balista, of Altadena; Charles Ferrera, of San Francisco, and three Los Angeles stars, Don Erickson, Stanley Seymour and Bill McCormack, had little regard for favorite, or for medal winners as they zoomed in effect in drizzly weather through the first and second eighteen-hole rounds.

Seymour started the California rampage with a smashing and surprising victory over "Torchy" Peden, the amateur champion of Canada and the Pacific Northwest, and nothing could stop the big men from the South afterward.

The draw for the first of two eighteen-hole rounds tomorrow saw Balista paired against Erickson, Ward matched with Miller, Seymour paired with McCormack and Ferrera teamed with Leal.

Chocolate Is Given Call Over Matchens

BARCELONA, Spain, Aug. 3 (AP)—Kid Chocolate, the Cuban negro who holds the featherweight championship, won an unpopular ten-round decision from Matchens, claimant of the Belgian title, in a ten-round bout here, tonight. The crowd of 6,000 jeered and shouted at Matchens, who, despite the Belgian's great work in the closing rounds had earned him a draw, and threatened to mob the referee, Kuan Casanova, and the two judges.

DICK COLBY WINS

The final of the men's consolation singles at the J.B.A.A. tennis tournament was won by Dick Colby. The J.B.A.A. Cup and an individual prize went to Colby.

Change Made in Dates for City Junior Golfing

NEW ANGLERS BODY FORMED IN VICTORIA

Clover Point Association Has H. R. Fletcher as Head—First Catch Recorded

The Clover Point Anglers' Association was formed recently and G. (Jerry) Purser brought in a twenty-two and a half-pound spring salmon as the first catch of the season. He used a very light line and about four ounces of lead in snaring the fish.

H. R. Fletcher was elected president of the association, which was formed last April and now numbers about twenty-five members.

Since fishing off Victoria is much different from that in the interior towns, Nanaimo City soccer team registered a draw with Trail here, tonight. The locals took the lead in the first half of the game when Milburn netted the ball. Victoria efforts were successful in the second period on a play from Stobart and Knight, which Edmunds converted in a fine display.

Rutledge, former Nanaimo keeper, played a fine game, and Stobart, Knight, Carr and English starred for the tourists.

The exhibition was witnessed by a large crowd.

The Girl Marquis—Bartholoma Welser, head of the immensely rich patrician family of Augsburg, Charles I of Spain. When the king had received from King Charles V of Germany, who was at the same time King of the high purchasing power of gold in the sixteenth century, a total of twelve tons of gold, which in view of the high purchasing power of gold in the sixteenth century, would be equivalent to about $100,000,000 today, the Emperor in 1527 invested Welser with the entire country of Venezuela, as a personal gift. ## CHALLENGER WILL HAVE LIGHT BOAT

Scott-Paine's Craft Will Weigh 3,360 Lbs. for Harmsworth Race

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Hubert Scott-Paine will challenge Gar Wood for the Harmsworth Trophy on behalf of Great Britain, with a pocket motorboat of revolutionary design—Miss Britain III—now known as Scott-Paine, designer and builder, revealed her specifications.

With a seventeen-year-old Holly wood smokemaking, Ned Russell, drew the sympathy of the crowd, who applauded his idea of semi-final elimination through three quarter-final events. The slender wisp of a lad who scored a sensational victory over the top-ranked Canadian Davis Cup ace, Marcel Rainville, yesterday, will be defeated in the first set of the mixed and mixed doubles matches.

Lacking the physique necessary to stand the strain of championship play, Russell cracked while leading Rainville 5-3, in the second set of the singles, and his knees gave way repeatedly, and he measured his length in the grass as he bravely staggered after the unfeigned placements of the sixth ranking Canadian. Rainville won 6-2, 8-6, 6-0.

COST HUGE SUM

Miss Britain III, built at a cost of $22,000, has an engine of only 1.375 horsepower, compared with the 8,000 in Wood's craft; but the 12-2-foot all-metal speedster has an open boat, and only two inches of freeboard, attained over 100 miles an hour on a two-third power trial held secretly in Southampton Waters recently.

Russell was forced to default in his men's doubles match with Charles Hunt, of San Francisco, against the strong American pair, Mel Dranga and Wayne Sabin, with the seven tons of Gar Wood's defender, Miss America X. The first race is set for September 2.

Lengthy Consecutive-Game Tallying by Yankees Ends With Old Record Shattered by Wide Margin—Senators Wallop Red Sox—Cubs Win—Cardinals Whip Pirates

AMERICAN LEAGUE
NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, southpaw speedball star of Philadelphia Athletics, put an end to the greatest scoring streak ever made by a club in the last 100 baseball history, when he pitched the A's to a 7-0 victory over New York Yankees. The Yanks had scored in 301 consecutive games over a period of just two years before Grove halted them with five hits today. Their last previous bid for a record was assimilated by Willy Moors, then with the Boston Red Sox, on August 2, 1931. This feat eclipsed all records for consecutive scoring. The best mark listed in the record books was 132 games, an entire season, accomplished by the Boston and Philadelphia National League clubs in 1894.

Grove was the big figure in the Athletics' victory, but Jimmie Foxx, slugging first baseman, also had a hand in it. Foxx put the smacked off the war clubs of Washington Senators, to end out and all done for Boston Red Sox and step up Washington's league lead to three full games.

Toronto Spectators Become Infuriated with Antics of Jack Washburn

TORONTO, Aug. 3 (CP)—Infuriated by the high tactics of "Gentleman" Jack Washburn, California wrestler, a crowd at Maple Leaf Gardens tonight attempted to mob the giant matman, after he had been announced victor over Joe Malicewicz, Utica, N.Y.

Washburn, who was at the wrestler, and a spectator, Jack Montague, was struck on the forehead by a large rock and knocked unconscious. Washburn had roughed his way through a three-round match. He was persistently booted by the crowd.

When Referee Jack Forbes announced Washburn winner after the deciding fall, a stone fell at the feet of the California wrestler before he could leave the ring. Others followed. Police jumped between the rows of surrounding Washburn's informed lane through which he passed to his dressing room unharmed.

NORWICH, England, Aug. 3 (CP)—British West Indies and the second-class Norfolk cricket teams declared their match drawn today when the time limit expired. The visitors had scored 496 and 35 runs for loss of two wickets, to 257 for the West Indies in their ninth.

The team score of N.W.I. was exactly as big as the total knocked up single-handedly by George Headley, Jamaica batsman, in the West Indies' first innings.

That Body of Yours

FIRST SYMPTOM OF HEART FAILURE IS BREATHLESSNESS

As students it was our custom to listen to as many cases of heart disease as possible, and try to tell whether the murmur came with the first or the second beat, and just before the first beat, and just after the murmur.

Then with this worked out in our minds we tried to tell just which valves were affected, and gave the disease its particular name. What do we find in instructors in medicine, teaching the students now about heart disease?

While they have not done away with the names of the diseases affecting the heart, they attach very little importance to them, because they have or try to have all heart ailments down to a practical working basis.

What are the practical points?

First, has the heart enough power to do the work of the body when the body is at rest? Second, what amount of reserve has the heart when work, extra work, is demanded of it?

If the heart cannot do the ordinary work demanded, and cannot do a little extra work at times, then that heart is "failing" in its ability to work, and we have what is called "heart failure."

Third, a sign that the heart is not doing its work properly, or is not strong enough to fulfill the usual demands on it.

If the failure is severe, or has existed for some time, the heart will be dilated, and there may be dropy—swelling of parts of the body with accumulation of fluid.

But before the heart becomes such a complete failure, what is the first sign that is noted by the patient himself?

Breathlessness on effort

Poor Mrs. Jay Returns

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Hardly had Sammy Jay disappeared among the trees of the Green Forest when Mrs. Jay came hurrying back, quite out of breath. She had suddenly realized that she had been away too long, and a great fear that her eggs might have become chilled filled her heart. When she was again enroute to see what was in the nest she became still more anxious. She glanced about hastily to see if Sammy was near. But, seeing nothing of him, she gave a little sigh of relief and flew over to the edge of the nest.

Now, when Mrs. Jay looked into her nest and saw the six tiny eggs, broken and faintly feathered, folk don't do that sort of thing, but she began to cry in such a tone of distress that all who heard it were filled with pity.

At first she didn't understand just what had happened. That is to say she didn't suspect who had broken the eggs. It was natural that she should do this, for she had done it herself.

At this some of the neighbors who had been hiding nearby couldn't resist a grin of amusement. Some of them knew to their sorrow that Mrs. Jay had been above the nest of the eggs of other birds. Perhaps the worst thing that can be said against Sammy and Mrs. Jay is that they are over fond of eating the eggs of their feathered neighbors.

"It wasn't Blacky the Crow," spoke up Chatterer the Squirrel, who up to now had kept still longer. "Blacky hasn't been near here this morning. The fellow who broke your eggs didn't wear a black coat; he wore a blue one with white trimmings."

Mrs. Jay looked up with a startled expression on her face. She knew just who Chatterer meant.

"You don't believe me," she said. "Sammy Jay is over a bad temper and do things he has no business to do, but never in the world would he break his own eggs. I don't believe one word of it, so there."

"But it's true!" shrieked Chatterer in great glee. "It's true, for I . . .

"But that doesn't prove anything," declared Mrs. Jay angrily. "I wouldn't believe you under any circumstances, for you don't know what the truth is."

"But I'm not the only one who saw him do it," cried Chatterer. "I saw him do it, and so did all the feathered neighbors who had been hiding where they could see all that went on at the Jay home. 'We saw him! All of us saw Sammy Jay do it!'" they cried together.

Then Mrs. Jay knew that it was true. She glanced once more at her nest of broken eggs, now filling the air with the softly falling snow, then, without a word, turned and disappeared a month since last September.

"It wasn't Blacky the Crow," spoke up Chatterer the Squirrel among the trees of the Green Forest.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CHAPTER VI
Color crept up under Norah's pale, clear skin. "Worried, darling?" she said.

"Keith's lost his job," Mrs. Oliver said simply. "I'm sure of it. Twice now I've telephoned him during office hours. They didn't say he had left, but there was something extremely queer in the way the telephone girl answered me. Do you know anything about it?"

"I think he feels—he suspects that they won't want him after Christmas," Norah admitted guardedly.

"It was an explanation of fear and appeal, rather than a question. Norah smiled.

"You know me, Mother."

"I know you're extremely valuable to them," Mrs. Oliver said, reassured. "But Norah, what are we to do about Keith?" she resumed, anxiously.

"He's looking for another job. He'll get one."

"Oh, dear, dear, dear," her mother wailed, smiting her palms together. "It does seem as if everything came once. My illness—I'm still very weak, very weak. My Keith almost failed me when I looked just this far into the kitchen, today, and if anything happens to Keith's job I really don't know what we will do. Before, I had my insurance, you know—that's gone now."

"Darling, you're still weak and sick, or you wouldn't let it get right now," Norah soothed. "I'm afraid you're not in shape. Madam, or Guatamala or somewhere, but he doesn't want to leave home."

"Oh, Norah, you're such a come-to-me," her mother said, leaning her head against Norah's shoulder.

Now he was silent, and Norah could think of nothing to say; she wondered how she was ever going to end this hour, and whether she would ever see him again after it.

"You see, Norah," he said suddenly, in an effort to make things go on, according to schedule. "I've gotten in deeper than I meant to; I want to go through with it."

Norah hooked her two thumbs on the table; looked down at them. Her face was red.

"Well, thank you," she said un-easily, clearing her throat.

"You'd like Foxaway," Barry suggested. "It's a grand old place—it's the only place in the world—"

"It's the only place in the world—"

"Norah, you're such a come-to-me," her mother said, leaning her head against Norah's shoulder.

"I think she would be a good person for you to marry," Norah suggested. He gave her a quick glance.

"Hazel, Hazel, who wanted her? She's got everything else in the world, but she wanted Foxaway. She told me she wanted me to write a new will and leave it to her. I thought—"

"He was laughing again. "I thought she had cheek."

"I should think she would be a good person for you to marry," Norah suggested. He gave her a quick glance.

"Hazel? Great Scott!" he ejaculated. "I'll marry her!" in a ruminating tone. "I'll marry her! Not a dear friend I could find. But the more I think of this bargain of ours, Norah," he concluded, brightening, "the better I like it. You run Foxaway, I'll take care of me—"
